Collection Procedure

Tips for a successful sample collection

- Do not touch the filter paper area with your hands.
- Collect only when your hands are warm. You can warm your hands by rubbing them together and swinging your arms, or rub your hands under warm water as this encourages blood flow. Moving around will also increase your blood flow, so try moving around before starting your collection.
- You may use a belt or item of clothing as a tourniquet to encourage blood flow. Tie item firmly around the upper portion of the arm that will be used for collection.
- Preferably stand up and keep your hand at waist level during collection, this will encourage blood flow.
- Allow the blood to drop from your finger onto the card, try not to touch the blood onto the circles.
- Collect enough blood so that ALL three circles are completely filled.

Collection

Step 1:

Write your full name, date and time of collection on the back of the Blood Spot Card. Also note date and time of collection on the Personal Information Form.

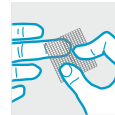

Step 2:

Before collecting blood, wash and dry your hands with a clean towel and open the sterile gauze pad for later use.

Step 3:

Position the Blood Spot Card on a suitable surface (below waist level) so that the collection circles are facing upwards.

Step 4:

Select a finger to draw blood from (middle or ring finger of non-dominant hand is typically best). Open an alcohol pad and use it to wipe finger. Allow finger to dry for at least one minute.

Step 5:

Pick up the lancet and hold the thick end. Twist the narrow tab at the opposite end and remove. The lancet is now primed.

Step 6:

Press the now exposed white tip firmly against your fingertip to release the needle. Once the needle is released and has made a small puncture in your finger, it will immediately retract. The lancet is now safe to dispose of. Quickly wipe away the first blood drop with the sterile gauze pad.

Step 7:

Using your thumb, gently massage (do not squeeze) the entire length of the pricked finger to form blood drop.

Step 8:

When the blood is ready to fall, let it drop onto the centre of the circle. Continue collection until ALL circles on the Blood Spot Card have been filled (to fill all the circles you may have to repeat from step 4).

Step 9:

When you have filled all three circles on the Blood Spot Card, blot finger dry with the sterile gauze pad and apply a plaster.

Step 10:

Allow the Blood Spot Card to dry for a minimum of four hours. Once dry, place the card into the supplied resealable bag. Store in a cool, dry place until ready to ship.
